Removed Trees

Cliffview Resort is a luxury cabin resort located in Wolfe County, KY established in 1996. Cliffview does not own all cabins on this ridge, and other local cabin rental companies have purchased land and built their own rental cabins, making this ridge the most highly developed area of the Red River Gorge. Since this area has been developed from forest and trees are generally taller than cabins, we can assume that any area along a road highlighted in deep red is where trees have been removed for a cabin to be built.
